March 20, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Lexington-based carpet cleaners has provided descriptive explanations about the steps which the experts perform in cleaning carpets. The result is sanitized and protected carpets and upholstery.

Lexington KY: Lexington Carpet Cleaning company and Jeff Smith are pleased to announce the release of information about their carpet-cleaning procedures. The five-step methods helps to make carpets look as if they were just installed. Additional services which are available include commercial carpet, home carpet and upholstery and furniture cleaning. The experts also clean tile and grout, rugs and hardwood floors. The professional team is skilled at odor removal and pet stain removal, as well as emergency water removal.

The five-step methods which the company uses begins with a thorough vacuuming of all areas which will be cleaned. This action removes loose dirt and debris found on the top layers of the carpet and improves the effectiveness of the second step. The next action is to spray the carpet with a pre-treatment solution that breaks up oil, dirt, germs or other contaminants in the carpet fibers. Step three makes use of high quality equipment to shake the fibers and improve the effectiveness of the pre-treatment solution.

Jeff Smith explains the remaining steps of the cleaning method, "After letting the pre-treatment sit a while, our extraction machines gets down to the deepest areas of your carpet. The final step is to rake the carpet to ensure that each fiber is standing tall. An optional step is to apply a thin layer of Scotchgard to the carpet to provide future protection to the carpet. Scotchgard protection helps to prevent the deposits of dirt and grime in the future."

An important element in the positive reputation which LCC carries is the professional ethics of the technicians and all members of the company. Customers are assured that each team member will arrive to the appointment on time, in a clean uniform and will be unfailingly courteous and professional in his or her attitude.

The service area of the company includes Lexington, Georgetown, Nicholasville, Frankfort, Paris, Cynthiana, Versailles, Richmond, Mt. Sterling, Winchester and every area in-between. Both residential and commercial customers are served.
