

Orange Is The New Black For Calf Compression Sleeves

March 29, 2017

March 29, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

BeVisible Sports, a business in San Francisco, CA, has announced the launch of their BeVisible Sports Calf Compression Sleeves in orange color.

The original calf compression sleeve has already proven to be incredibly popular, with tens of thousands of satisfied customers. Black has been the most popular color for these sleeves but the company is confident that the orange colored version will be equally well received.

Sandy B. from BeVisible Sports says: "There have been a lot of requests from loyal customers to release the compression sleeve in different colors. We are committed to listening to our customers and have therefore released it in Electric Blue, Neon Pink, and Pure White over the past year. But now, we believe that orange is the new black."

BeVisible Sports has indicated that they are committed to creating high quality products that enable people to become more engaged in sports in a comfortable and safe way. Their shin splint compression sleeve is just one of their many products, and it has been very positively received by their many customers. In fact, over 3,000 reviews have currently been listed on Amazon, with people indicating their appreciation of the comfort and effectiveness of the sleeve. In fact, the product currently has a 4.6 star rating.

"I just have to say ... these calf sleeves literally saved me. I couldn't run for months because of how bad my shin splints were so these were suggested to me and now I own several pairs. I can now run again and I don't feel an ounce of pain. Shin splints are the worst and I absolutely love to run ... thank God I found these. They fit great, awesome color choices, and best part is I can run again ...," says Alisa, an Amazon customer.

Similar positive reviews are also listed on the company's Facebook page. Through this page, the company engages strongly with their customer base.
