

Ac Repair Eugene Debuts New Website For Eugene Oregon And Surrounding Areas Clients

June 13, 2015

June 13, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Michelle LaFrance, spokesman for the company AC Repair Eugene, has announced that they have just launched a new website that will be dedicated to providing AC repair to all residential and commercial clients of Eugene Oregon and surrounding areas. The company said that they have been currently focusing more on the Lennox air conditioning systems and Daikin ductless heat pumps, as they feel that these are currently the best solutions.

Michelle said that their experts are available 24 hours per day, and that there is no extra fee if clients call on weekends or place emergency calls. Michelle added that the goal of AC repair Eugene is to do everything in their power to provide clients with the best quality service so that they could enjoy their home or office, regardless of how hot the summers are or how cold the winters get - priority one is your home comfort. AC Repair Eugene stated that while the main brands they carry, and service, are the Lennox and Daikin ductless heat pumps, they are also very experienced in servicing AC brands such as General Electric, Carrier, Trane, Rudd and many others. The company made the following statement,

"We hire only the best technicians who are certified and licensed and they are knowledgeable in AC repairs and the replacement of any parts that would be needed for your heating or cooling system."

AC repair Eugene said that they understand the importance of comfort heating and air conditioning as well as priority heating and cooling. The company added that the reason why they preferred the Ductless Heat Pump by Daikin is because these systems are known to offer high energy saving features; for example, the LV Series Systems' Econo-mode function is able to reduce operating current and power consumption by up to 30% during startup. In addition, these systems are also very easy to install and provide very clean ductless heating and cooling, regardless of the environment. The reason why they also prefer the Lennox brand is because of its global name in home comfort. Michelle LaFrance said that the Lennox systems are also very easy to operate, and are energy efficient as well.

AC Repair Eugene made the following statement,

"Our trucks are easily recognized and arrive full stocked with necessary parts for your AC repair. Our technicians specialize in diagnosing and repairing older models. All of our techs attend regular training and are up to date on the latest equipment."

Clients will receive a complete evaluation of their entire home to determine why there AC is not working properly. The company said that they also offer advice and options to help the clients make an informed decision. To make this possible, AC Repair Eugene stated that they will show the clients all of the prices, and perks, for every repair, replacement or upgrade. For more information on how to get better air quality Eugene Oregon, or to find more details on the company and their services, interested parties are encouraged to click here.

###

For more information about AC Repair Eugene, contact the company here: AC Repair Eugene Michelle LaFrance (541) 393-8989 info@acrepaireugene.com AC Repair Eugene 5120 Franklin Blvd Suite 7 Eugene, OR 97403

AC Repair Eugene

AC Repair Eugene supplies professional and affordable HVAC service, repair, and replacement that meets or beats the competition! You can expect the highest standards of service from our licensed and insured technicians. Call us today!

(541) 393-8989

Website: <http://acrepaireugene.com/>

Email: info@acrepaireugene.com

Phone: (541) 393-8989

