Manchester-based double glazing company offers assurances that it has the necessary experience and quality products to reach the milestone of more than two decades in business. The family owned company service area covers Greater Manchester, Stock Port and the Northwest.

Manchester UK: Manchester Doors and Windows and John Riley are pleased to announce that the organization which began as a small family company on 1995 has expended its service area to include customers all over Manchester, Greater Manchester, Stockport and the Northwest. The double glazing Manchester products firm specializes in all types of double glazing, UPVC doors, composite doors, patio doors, conservatories, porches and roof-lines. The confidence in work quality enables the company to provide a standard ten-year guarantee on all work carried out on all specialised services.

A spokesperson for the company explained to an interviewer, "In an attempt to make sure that we comport ourselves in the highest standard at all times, we employ a hiring system that vets all of our workmen. Whoever comes to visit you during your free consultation, has many years of knowledge and experience and can provide the service that is promised. In addition to this, our consultation process is streamlined to be time-saving, friendly and informative."

Early in its history, the company became part of the Excel Trade Frames Group, allowing the highest quality selection of windows, doors, conservatories, patios, porches and roof lines to be offered to customers. The best prices apply to replacement windows in Manchester/Stockport as well as the custom-designed conservatory in Stockport. The initial consultation is free and the general price range is very affordable.

Some of the advantages and benefits of the products offered to customers include A-plus rated fit as a standard, maximum security and comprehensive guarantees. Double glazing is the standard now for all new builds. The result is that high quality double-glazing can dramatically reduce the energy costs. Double glazing can also keep property cool in summer, reduce condensation and reduce noise from outdoors. There is a reduction in interior fading and provision of extra security. All of these features allow for a guarantee of satisfaction on the products.
