June 13, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Emma Williams, who is the spokesperson for the company, Epic Mobile Accessories, has announced that the company's universal mobile phone car mount is available for sale on Amazon. She stated that the product's universal design made it perfect for most of the smart phone/cell phone models on the market.

Epic Mobile Accessories said that customers will be pleasantly surprised when they see how easy it is to mount their cell phone car holder and how well it stays there securely. This is good news for many drivers who usually have to battle with some of the low-quality universal smart phone car cradle products on the market. In many cases, the mounts would easily fall off after a few uses, or the joints would become loose very easily, making it difficult to keep the mount in the previously adjusted position.

Emma Williams said that the company's mobile phone car mount came with a very strong vacuum grip that is designed to fit securely to the windshield. She added that customers will notice that even in hot weather the suction will continue to hold fast. The mobile phone car mount is also said to be easily adjustable yet remaining sturdy and solid, never wobbling or bouncing around while the car is in motion. The way they made this possible is through the "Ball & Socket" joint, which also allows a customer's phone to be positioned in any viewable angle, including landscape mode. The universal design of the product also makes it possible to easily switch between different phones, which is good news for couples that share a car and take turns using it. One customer wrote the following review,

"This car phone mount is great. It suctions right to my dashboard with ease, and doesn't fall off or come loose, even when driving on unsteady roadways. And I love that the clip expands enough to fit not only my iPhone 5, but also my husbands Note 3! And the way it swivles 360 degrees, which makes it perfect for long drives! I never have to worry if it's at the right angle for me to see safely, without having to look down and away from the road."

Epic Mobile Accessories said that their universal car phone Mount Holder was also designed to keep the smart phone or cell phone secure and protected. This is possible because of the padded grips, which are designed not to scratch the phone in any way while clamped to it.

Emma Williams stated that Epic Mobile Accessories also take customer service very seriously, and that they will do everything in their power to give them the best buying experience possible. They added that if for any reason a customer is not happy with their product, they have 60 days to let the company know and will get a 100% money-back guarantee without any questions asked.

For more information on the universal smartphone car cradle, or to read other customer reviews on the product, the company urges all interested parties to visit their storefront on Amazon.
