Concepts of Spring of Elkhart, IN has added more options to its Spring Safe Home and Sound Magnetic Cabinet Safety lock set by adding more choices to its current 8 lock + 2 key pack. Responding to customer feedback saying that they need all extra keys or additional locks when babyproofing their home, the company has recently introduced new bundles containing only 4 Locks + 1 Key, 2 Locks + 1 Key, 2 locks without a Key and a single magnet key.

"We have always looked for ways to improve a customer's experience of our product", says a spokesperson from the company. "We take their feedback seriously. What we learned is that some parents and child minders can't have enough spare magnetic keys as the kids play with them on the fridge and other metal surfaces. At the other end of the spectrum are those who can't have enough locks", she states. "The truth is, baby proofing your home is not an exact science, and one parent's experience may be different from the next. Our sole task is to adjust to their needs."

The Spring Safe and Sound Magnetic Cabinet Safety lock range features "ultra-secure" magnetic locks that can only be opened by a powerful neodymium magnet key that comes with the package. Neodymium magnets are currently the strongest type of permanent magnets that are available in the market. Their crystalline structure gives them a high resistance to being demagnetized, and are the ideal material to use when baby proofing your home.

Installing magnetic cabinet locks strategically on drawers and cabinet doors can protect prying children from accessing harmful objects that may endanger their lives or well-being. Children are naturally inquisitive, and it's very easy for accidents to happen. Research indicates that child safety products like magnetic locks are some of the best ways to reduce these incidents from happening inside one's home.

"This product is great", says Katie Burwell. "It's a wee bit tricky to install, it works like a dream once they're in. Note: keep the magnetic keys out of reach of little ones, our daughter loves playing with them, which is how we were locked out of our cabinets for a spell. Beyond the product, the customer service provided by Concepts of Spring is also phenomenal. We got into a bit of a sticky situation with the keys and contacted them to inquire about our options. They were extremely prompt and went above and beyond to ensure we had a stellar experience."

Concepts of Spring is showing its appreciation to its customers by offering pre and post launch discounts. Keep an eye on their website and social media for upcoming announcements about their best child safety locks.
