Sanford, FL company Monika's Marketplace is proud to announce the availability of their best microwave cover BPA free certificate. They have completed all the relevant chemical and lab tests to demonstrate this, and the certificate is now available on their Amazon product listing. The tests were completed to give customers assurance that they would not be at risk of ingesting BPA, which is believed to have negative effects on health.

A representative from the company says: "Our microwave cover has long been very popular, and our customers were asking us whether it was completely safe to use. To ensure people that they will not be exposed to dangerous chemicals, we have now completed the chemical and lab testing, and have the cover certified as 100% BPA free."

The product has been designed to fit a standard dinner plate, measuring 10.5" by 3.5". It is fitted with a top handle for easy and safe removal, as well as with a vent. It is also very easy to clean, and can be fitted on the top shelf of the dishwasher.

Monika's Marketplace is also particularly proud of the fact that their product has long been known as the best microwave cooking cover. The product has received in excess of 600 reviews, which highlight the ease of use and quality of the product. "I had never heard of these until I watched my mother-in-law use one. Growing up, I always used paper towels or that thin clear plastic wrap you cover food with to put in the fridge. This is a step up and you don't have to constantly buy it & it's BPA free. Which is a huge plus in our household. I have had mine for over a year now and I love it...," says an Amazon customer.

Now that the product has received its best microwave cover BPA free certificate, even more people have become interested. Because the dome is also vented, it enables people to safely remove the steam, or to leave it on and keep their food warm. At the same time, it leaves the microwave completely clean, as the dome prevents splatter from getting to the kitchen appliance. Put together, this microwave cover is the perfect kitchen accessory.
