Removal of dead trees is one of the services performed by TRTS. Dead trees are at risk of falling during a storm, and can damage buildings or property. Falling trees also are a risk to any people who might be nearby. The team from Travelers Rest Tree Service can safely remove a tree from the property of the clients, using the most up-to-date and proven safe techniques. The climbers and crane operators are experts and are trained for maximum efficiency and safety.

Part of the tree removal service include removal of the stump. The company uses industry standard stump grinding equipment to ensure that the stump is completely removed to below ground level. The technique prevent any damage to landscaping in the area of the stump. The professionals do not dig or damage the property in any way, and will leave the work area looking better than when they started. The team also does tree pruning and trimming to remove dead branches which can risk the overall health of trees on the customer's property.
