April 07, 2017 -
Walnut, California based company, Protiga Group, has recently launched a new product onto the Amazon marketplace. The company's Fit Arm Sleeve is currently available through the marketplace.

Sarah Dykes with Protiga Group says, "Straining arms while doing exercise is really painful and bothersome. This arm sleeve is recommended to relieve joint pain and muscle plus improve blood flow."

The product, which can be seen at http://amzn.to/2oIb2OR is made of acrylic fiber which makes it comfortable to wear. According to Sarah Dykes that the arm sleeve is really versatile for any occasions such as exercising, working or even spending leisure time.

"Atheletes or active people are going to find that this arm sleeve is thick enough and yet really elastic, so it can not restric any active movement. It can be used to protect arms while playing basketball, tennis or just having a leisure time. If protecting the arm while doing activities is the main concern, this product definitely is the best choice," says Sarah Dykes.

Sarah Dykes states that customers can look cool when doing sports by wearing this black elegant arm sleeve.

Protiga Group designed the Fit Arm Sleeve to inprove blood flow and also cure arthritis. The company states that their new product can protect the arms from any injuries while doing heavy activities. More can be seen on the company's Amazon seller's page.
