Mago do Mercado offers information about a reliable course which teaches the steps and procedures involve in successful stock market trading. The knowledge will assist in overcoming the limitations of low interest rate returns.

Ipanema RJ: Mago do mercado and Pedro Coelho are pleased to announce that they have reached the three-year milestone in operation. The course on investment management techniques and skills will help those who are otherwise unable to make sense of the investment opportunities. How to invest in the stock market (Como investir na bolsa) is a course developed by Marcelo Vieira who has been practicing the principles he presents for more than ten years as an investor.

The techniques allow a novice investor in the stock market to begin with little or no funds and to build the capital in the account to healthy levels. Without the knowledge available in the course, most of the people learn sooner or later that investing in the stock market is an activity which requires commitment and dedication in learning how the market works. It will not be possible to become a successful long-term investor if some essential concepts are not mastered. Very few people know how to invest in stocks correctly and most just lose money by investing in Bovespa.

For beginning investors, it is important to realize it is a myth to get rich in very short-term trading without much effort. Expecting rapid returns can create financial ruin. Investors first learn to respect the market and understand that a thorough education is the essential first step. Over time and with the right guidance, it is possible to achieve consistent and expressive results.

Contrary to popular belief, a large amount of initial capital is not necessary. Instead, the investment should be to the correct psychological preparation. A lack of preparation psychologically is the reason why many highly skilled and intelligent people are unable to earn consistently. It is not necessary to be a genius, only that the basics are learned and applied. The strategy should be built so that winning trades result in more earnings than losing trades. This is done by following risk management techniques.
