April 24, 2017

April 24, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Andrea Butje, founder and lead instructor at Aromahead Institute, has been chosen to speak at the upcoming Hay House World Summit. The summit is the largest health and wellness event online. It is an international free conference that brings together some of the most aspiring authors, teachers, speakers and thought leaders in the Hay House community.

"I am so honored to be included in this line-up of inspiring people," says Butje. "It takes my breath away a little, in a fun way."

Aromahead offers a number of courses to help individuals to become more mentally and emotionally healthy. Those interested can learn about Aromahead's online courses on their official website.

The Hay House World Summit begins on May 6, 2017 and will last for 18 days. The Summit itself is completely free of charge and those who would like permanent access to the talks and films after the Summit's 18 days can purchase access from Hay House. Registration for the event enables the attendee to hear every speaker and see every presentation that is included.

One hundred lessons will focus on physical, mental and emotional health as well as spirituality, relationships, prosperity, self-transformation and aromatherapy. A total of 15 uplifting and inspiring films is also included in registration. Those who register for The Hay House World Summit before May 6 will receive immediate access to four free audio lessons and registrants also receive a welcome kit that enables them to follow through in making life changes that are important to them.

"I worked with Hay House to publish my book, 'The Heart of Aromatherapy: An Easy-to-Use Guide for Essential Oils'," says Butje. "At the time, I didn't really know what to expect from working with a big publishing company, but Hay House made me comfortable right away. Their team is professional, kind, and inspiring. They worked with me to be sure my message came across clearly, and to turn my book into the most beautiful work of art. I know them to be full of integrity and generosity, and I am not surprised that they put together a beautiful event like this for free."

A representative for the Summit encourages those interested to join the Hay House World Summit community on Facebook to gain guidance on staying on track and connecting with other like-minded individuals.
