iPhone Repair Company Announces New Mooresville NC Location

April 21, 2017

April 21, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

AppleJuice iRepairs has announced a new Mooresville, North Carolina, location for their iPhone repair services. The AppleJuice Mooresville location is now open, according to the company, and it is designed to provide repair services for iPhones, iPads, iPods and various other Apple based products.

Jeremiah Wheeler, the owner and founder of AppleJuice iRepairs, states, "We are so happy to have our Mooresville location up and running. We realize how frustrating it is to break your phone or some other device and we can repair most screen replacements and other issues in about half an hour or less."

Wheeler declares that they will beat the price for any iPhone repair in the area. The company has been specializing in iPhone repairs and replacements for more than five years and they have been observed to be quickly becoming the fastest and most dependable company for Mac and iPhone repair in the Charlotte Mecklenburg region.

"We've grown significantly in these past few years," Wheeler states. "We thought that now is the best time to open our new Mooresville location and can't wait to begin helping residents in the area with all of their iPhone repair issues." Those interested in learning more about the company can find reviews and other information by searching for AppleJuice on Yelp.

Wheeler states that his entire staff are well versed in all things that are iPhone and Mac related and states that the company has taken great strides and made significant investments to ensure that they offer customers the highest quality and most affordable Macbook and iMac as well as iPhone and iPad repairs. They offer repair for malware as well as hard drives and keyboards for computers, top cases, batteries, ram and storage, and repair water damage and various other issues.

The company, which can be found by looking for AppleJuice on Yahoo, offers credit or cash as well for all models of iPad, iPod Touch, any model of iPhone and any Macbook in any condition. Wheeler states that customers in the Mooresville area who have Apple based products to sell can contact them or visit them at their new location to learn more about their cash or credit program.
