April 21, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Cat Nip Toys, based in Portland, Oregon, recently announced the release of their new cat ear hoodie. This product falls in line with the company's additional cat furniture and other feline loving products. The women's hoodie, along with other products for sale by the company, can be seen at <https://www.catnip toys.com/products/women-cat-ear-hoodie-casual-black-long-sleeve-sweater-pullover>. In addition to the new hoodie, the company also provides a wide array of cat trees, treats, and other products for cat owners.

"We love cats and it shows," says Catherine Black, a representative for Cat Nip Toys. "We wanted to help other cat lovers to really express themselves and we believe that our new cat ear hoodie is going to do that perfectly."

The hoodie is made from a polyester and cotton blend and comes in black with the words "I Am A Cat" on the front in white. Sizes range from small to extra-large and the company states that it is a fun hoodie to wear for those who love their feline family.

The company has a range of additional clothing and cat products, including cat trees, which can all be seen at <https://www.catniptoys.com/collections/cat-trees-for-sale>. Black states that all of their products are high quality and made with cat lovers and their cats in mind. In addition to their products, the company also provides a number of fun videos on their website for cat lovers that range from Tom and Jerry cartoons to cats in funny situations.

"You're really going to love it," says Black. "For instance, our hoodie that has cat ears is for fun. It's so whimsical and it will be great when you want something somewhat costume like for Halloween. If you don't really want to dress up but want to show your holiday spirit, just throw on the hoodie, paint on some whiskers and boom: you're a cat."

Those interested in learning more about the new hoodie or any of the products offered by Cat Nip Toys can visit them on their official website. Cat lovers who would like to connect with the company on social media can follow CatNipToys on Instagram to be updated of any new products as they are released.
