May 01, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

BNR Promotions in Charlotte, North Carolina has announced that they are now providing video production services in addition to sound recording. Owner Diondre Lewis says that those searching for a space to record songs or rehearse vocal coaching can count on BNR for professional studio services. A complete list of services that the company offers can be seen at <http://www.bnrpromotions.com/recording-studio/>.

"We are in the business of assisting music professionals throughout Charlotte and as far away as Raleigh, Atlanta, and Greensboro. We offer a multispecialty recording space for singers and composers to create video and audio products," states Lewis.

The studio owner says that those interested in the studio services can check out BNR Studio on YouTube to get an idea of the kind of services that the company offers. He says that they offer sufficient space for musicians and singers with a state of the art facility for crating music technology hardware and software. The studio offers space for recording and mixing as well as video production and surround sound monitoring, and a number of multimedia and DVD production services.

"We strive to offer everything that professional and even amateur musicians would need to create their musical content," says Lewis. "Our video production is unsurpassed and we use only the best equipment in the business to give you the most professional result that you can get."

Lewis points out that BNR Promotions offers a suitable space for creating audio and video products and for rehearsing to ensure that live sound and even vocal coaching have the right acoustics. He says that customers can be assured that they will receive only the highest quality video and audio recording services in the area and at a reasonably affordable cost.

The North Carolina based studio offers quality professional brand microphones and other recording equipment as well as fully automated digital mixing consoles and digital audio workstations like Pro Tools, Logic Pro, sonic Studio Soundblade and others.
