Peakmaster Roofing offers certified installer status from Enviroshake Quality Engineered Roofing. Surrey's roofing company professionals have the skills to install Enviroshake or Enviroshingle complete roofing systems.

Surrey BC: Peakmaster Roofing and Marc Barre are pleased to announce that Surrey's roofing company installers are certified by Enviroshake Quality Engineered Roofing. Peakmaster proudly serves the White Rock, Surrey, Langley and Abbotsford areas. Enviroshake, Enviroshingle are composite roofing products designed to replicate the look of natural weathered cedar roofing materials. An Enviroshake, Enviroshingle or Enviroslate roof is a one-time investment, making it significantly cheaper than cedar or slate over the life of the roof.

The Enviroshake, Enviroshingle or Enviroslate roof is installed for the same price as cedar and half the cost of real slate. It has a lifetime warranty and is maintenance and worry-free. The lifetime warranty is fully transferable within the first fifty years for residential projects and a fifty-year warranty for commercial projects. The roofing product is made from 95 percent recycled materials.

Speaking for Peakmaster, a representative explained, "We are proud to be certified installers of Enviroshake® products. We provide superior quality installation and repair services for any residential or commercial roofing project. For the years that we have been in business, our objective has been to deliver world-class service and quality work with a hard-working and skilled team. Our Surrey BC- based roofers possess the skills and expertise to get the job done."

The company was established with a philosophy of creating a service relationship with customers. The installers take pride in first-rate workmanship and commitment in getting the job done right the first time. They perform an inspection of the customer's roof and provide a no-obligation estimate for any replacement or repairs needed. The services include residential and commercial roofing, as well as roof repair, installation and replacement. Shingle installation and replacement is available, plus leaky roof repair, roof inspection and gutter installation. The installers are available for around-the-clock emergency roofing repair for area customers.
