

Company Expands Service Area For Residential Interior House Painting In Waukesha WI

April 26, 2017

April 26, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Two Day Painting in Waukesha, Wisconsin, has announced the expansion of its service area. The company recently stated that in addition to Waukesha, they are now servicing customers in a number of surrounding areas including Menomonee Falls, Milwaukee County, and various others, all of which can be seen on the company's official website.

Garrett Martell, a representative for the residential painting company says, "We are proud and excited to announce the expansion of our service reach. We have been providing quality painting for customers in and around Waukesha for many years and couldn't be happier about offering those same quality services to customers in other areas."

Martell says that homeowners who schedule an appointment will receive a confirmation call or email to confirm the details of the project and get scheduled for a consultation. He says that the company has grown significantly over the years, in part due to the fact that they work with their customers as a team, keeping them informed throughout the project to ensure that customers are always up to date with the progress and expected completion dates. As a result, Martell points out with pride that they have received many positive reviews from their customers over the years. Those interested can learn more by visiting Two Day Painting on Manta.

Martell says that their skilled tradespeople are trained to provide the highest quality workmanship and that the company uses only the highest quality of materials to ensure the best customer experience.

"We focus on outstanding customer service," declares Martell. "This is one reason why we decided to expand our service area to allow homeowners outside of Waukesha to experience our quality home improvement services."

The company claims that their expanded service area is just one more way that they strive for better customer satisfaction. Martell says that by expanding to outlying areas, they have the opportunity to assist more homeowners with their improvement projects, making for an even bigger list of satisfied clientele. Those interested in learning more about the areas served by Two Day Painting can see the complete list on the company's official website.
