June 20, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Trenton Hardie, spokesperson for the company Lincoln Fencing & Handrail, has announced that they have the manpower and expertise to design, manufacture and install fencing and handrail for customers all over the Eyre Peninsula. The company specializes in installing aluminum, steel and stainless steel fences, gates and balustrades.

Trenton stated that they already have a selection of standard designs on display at their showroom, but if customers would like to have something completely new designed for their own special requirements, they will be more than happy to oblige. The company made the following statement,

"Security is increasingly a major priority for industrial projects, if you have a heavy security requirement, then let us know and we can manufacture something to suit your needs."

Trenton said that the best way for customers to view some of the work they have done, or to see what type of products they have available, is to visit their website directly. Here, customers will easily be able to view fencing and handrail projects divided into their own specific categories. For example, if clients are interested in security fencing, they will be able to view examples of heavy security welded mesh and heavy duty sliding gate projects. Those who are interested in Balustrade will be able to see examples of glass, slotted handrails, glass, stainless steel handrails and stainless steel and Oak. The company added that regardless of whether the customer is interested in stainless steel, aluminum, glass or wire, they are ready to accommodate.

Lincoln Fencing & Handrail stated that they can also accommodate customers who like the look of wood but don't like maintaining it. Their solution is fencing built with Knotwood aluminium. When customers go to their website, they will be able to see an example of a knotwood gate, sliding gate and many others.

The company said that a feature customers will love about their website is the ability to view all of their galleries as a slideshow. However, they understand that while the website is able to provide a lot of visual and written information on their products, the more intricate details need to be discussed directly with them, because every person will have their own unique needs. Therefore, they urge that all customers call them or email them.

Lincoln Fencing & Handrail has been serving residents of the Eyre Peninsula for the past 16 years and is a local family owned business. The company is also the largest manufacturer of tubular fencing and balustrades outside of Adelaide. Trenton Hardie stated that the company prides themselves in providing high quality products to all residential customers, builders as well as commercial clients in the vicinity, and the same high quality can be seen in every installation project they have completed over these years.

For more information on the company, customers are invited to visit them directly on their website. For those who have any further questions, please contact them directly by email, or call them by telephone, which can also be found through their site.
