

Austin-Based Tires To You Plans Further Texas Expansion

April 26, 2017

April 26, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Another Tires To You location will be available in Texas this year. The upcoming expansion to Hutto, TX follows a recent Killeen, Texas store opening.

Austin TX: Tires To You and Clint Collins, Manager are pleased to announce that their corporate franchise expansion plans are right on track. The company recently opened its new store location in Killeen, following the philosophy of unvarnished attention to customer service and top quality products. The planned expansion for store location number three is expected within twelve months. The location for the upcoming store opening is in Hutto Texas. From its earliest launch in Austin, Texas the firm has been devoted to service and providing a philosophy of respect to customers.

The company's goal of top quality of its tires, related products and provision of service is personified in the helpful and knowledgeable employees associated with the company. The plan to expand the number of stores beyond the three locations is only possible when customers recognize the quality of the products and services. The same level of service is available in each of the existing and planned locations.

A spokesperson for the store headquarters explained, "We offer many free services to our customers, including cleaning wheels, rotating tires and making every effort to ensure our customers are happy with their experience when they walk into one of our locations. We want to be more than just another tire shop; we want you to feel welcome and to be treated like members of our family."

In addition to the great services available, financing options are available to customers who are plagued by budget constraints. The SNAP Finance opportunities go hand-in-hand with affordable prices and a range of substantial mileage warranty options.

Tires To You ensures that customers in a growing number of locations in Texas receive fast and convenient service. The inventory of new and used tires is right for vehicles of all makes and models. A look at the website shows more information about available products and services.

For more information, visit: <http://4tires2u.com>.

###

For more information about Tires To You, contact the company here: Tires To You Clint Collins, General Manager (512) 619-1995 clint@4tires2u.com 6208 N. Lamar Blvd., Austin TX 78757

Tires To You

Website: <http://4tires2u.com>

Email: clint@4tires2u.com

Phone: (512) 619-1995

Powered by PressAdvantage.com