DesignByNuWorld, a business based in Warren, NJ, is known for its high quality personalized custom printing on running shoes, sneakers, shirts, hoodies, jerseys, tote bags, shoulder bags, saddle bags, can and Bottle Koozies. After all the tragic events this year the Red Cross needs help now more than ever. Designs by NuWorld is proud to announce that they now support the Red Cross and that a percentage of every purchase will go towards this charity. Full details about their products can be obtained through <https://designsbynuworld.com/>.

Lizzy Surowiec from NuWorld Innovations Company says: "We are very proud of our unique designs and the quality of our work as we carry 19 different artist's designs across 42 different collections. We have noticed that, with the holiday season now past, a lot of people are interested in custom printed t-shirts and other custom printed apparel with sports related themes. We felt, therefore, that the time is now right to start supporting the Red Cross Organization as well. Any purchase you make means that you will be directly supporting this important charity."

The company operates a range of different websites, thereby ensuring that they can reach virtually every geographical location in the country. Through <https://nuworldstore.com/>, for instance, they pride themselves on the latest trending innovative gadgets and products. NWI also prides themselves on a hassle free no questions asked return policy. The charitable support is offered through each of the of the NuWorld websites, so people always know they are doing good through their purchases.

Those who have had work completed with NuWorld company have been very pleased with the quality of the products they have received. One customer says on <http://mytshirtmaker.com/>, "I was going to surprise my friend with this gift but when I received the custom running shoes, I was amazed with the good quality. These are very awesome and cool looking shoes for my events. I'm sure my friend will love hers also. Thanks again."

Lizzy Surowiec adds: "This is what we live for. We love hearing back from our customers and what they think about our products. It's not always this positive but 99% of the time we get great feedback from our new family. When you buy from us we consider you part of our ever-growing family. Meanwhile, we look forward to sharing with our clients how their purchases have helped to contribute to making the world a better place through the Red Cross. This past holiday season was all about giving and caring about those who don't have as much, and this is a wonderful opportunity for everybody to share in that spirit."

Lizzy also wanted to let everyone know that "The NuWorld Family has a pet product store called <https://nutz4muttspetshop.com> that also donates a percentage of the proceeds to animal shelters in need. We have a lot of clothing for dogs as well as humans. Please stop by and show your support today we guarantee you won't be disappointed!"
