Forex.com, the trusted market leader with over 15 years of experience in bringing Forex markets to retail traders, has just released Forex Trendy, the Forex Trend Scanner. It's a tool designed to scan all currency pairs on all time frames, in order to find the best trend for their customers.

Forex Trendy is a software solution developed to avoid any type of trading during uncertain periods of time. It makes no use of indicators and the trend is determined entirely by the price action. It does, however, pick the best trending pair at the current time.

A remarkable property this software disposes of is the fact that it scans quickly 34 Forex pairs, from minutely to monthly. This represents no less than 306 charts analyzed every second, allowing its users to get the best trending pair and time frame at any time they want.

The Forex Trendy runs on powerful computers, which means that the results are posted online. Clients can use trading platforms that vary from MetaTrader to TradeStation, without downloading or installing anything.

Not only that it scans all the charts, on all the timeframes, but it also analyzes every potential breakout by recognizing the most reliable continuation chart patterns. This ends up in a message received by the user, which draws his attention on the trend lines that form the triangle and the possible breakout point.

Forex traders know that it's not just about drawing random lines, but it's more about looking for actual reliable patterns that are being formed by strong trend lines which have more than two touching points at a certain distance.

But even for those who are not very familiar with all of these concepts, Forex Trendy will provide a 30-page e-book named "Understanding the Myths of Market Trends and Patterns" after subscribing to the website. The membership will provide access to live charts of emerging patterns, as well as the history of completed patterns, audible and email alerts for the completed patterns, chart pattern recognition and access to a sophisticated algorithm that takes into consideration which pattern or trend line looks better.

"I have said from day one I am no Forex expert, but I am truly amazed with how simple and profitable this is! The software is basically finding all the signals to trade with. I spent the afternoon following a few currency pairs and by the end of the day you will be glad you read this. I just made close to 100 GBP in my first day trading," says a newly astonished customer.

Forex Trendy is, no doubt, an indispensable tool for true marketers, as the company advertises it. With such a technically developed mechanism, it really is a tool everyone interested in the market business should own.
