Premium Pet Wellness, a company based in Laguna Niguel, CA, has recently launched Premium Pet Omega, a pure wild source of liquid omega 3 fish oil. This new fish oil for dogs and cats is available only through Amazon at this time. To celebrate this launch and to give more people the opportunity to increase their pet's overall health and well being, the fish oil is available at a 25% discount, dropping the cost to just $29.95. Their Certificate of Analysis shows the oil to be unmatched in potency and purity

"While most people think a solid diet and exercise are all it takes to keep a dog healthy", says Dr. Jennifer Waddell from Premium Pet Wellness, "many experts agree there are other strategies that are important. Adding Omega-3 fatty acids to a dog or cat diet is one of the huge ones. This is why we have decided to launch our new wild caught fish oil, which can be used for both dogs and cats, at a significant discount."

Most people see their pets as members of their family. And, just as they would look after their human family members, they will do everything for their dogs and cats as well. However, a dog can't speak and tell its owner what is wrong or what it needs. Thanks to this Premium Pet Wellness product, and numerous research studies pet owners can be sure to improve their pet's health and energy levels by supplementing. It is well-documented that omega 3 fish oils support multiple systems in the body, decreasing inflammation as well as supporting brain, eyes, kidney, skin and coat.

"Giving a dog or cat the right amount of premium wild caught fish oil everyday is a secret every pet owner should know, one that is backed by numerous studies and also vet-recommended", commented a spokesperson from Premium Pet Wellness. "The changes that can be seen in their quality of life is amazing. And the things fish oil can do to improve a pet's health is almost like turning back the clock."

The product has consistently received five star reviews since its launch. Many pet owners are reporting a decrease in shedding as well as an increase in the shininess of their pet's coat. They are also noticing an increase in the energy and mobility of their pet.

Each dosage of the fish oil contains 800 mg EPA, 525 mg DHA, has a total of 1600 mg Omega 3's per serving. The purity of the product allows for easy digestion, it making it the ideal addition to a dog's diet. The company is also keen to highlight the fish used in the oils all live in North Atlantic waters, where the waters are considered the cleanest on the globe. Furthermore, the company uses sustainable and eco-friendly fishing practices to retrieve their fish.. Their processing is occurs at a state-of-the art facility in Iceland, before being shipped to the USA for bottling.

Premium Pet Wellness also offers a full unconditional 60 day money back guarantee.
