Jered Lehman Photography offers a range of businesses including photography, real estate, photo sharing and safeguarding, and scenic views. The founder is a commercially licensed drone pilot.

World Wide Web: Jered Lehman Photography is pleased to announce that they provide a number of photography and videography based services throughout the Reno, Sparks and Tahoe area. In addition to these services, Jered is a commercially licensed drone pilot who uses his skills and equipment to obtain unique and attractive images which relate to his various business types. Commercial photography is provided to customers in the area for a range of products and services.

As a business involved in real estate, the combination of photography with the attractive properties available for sale allows for a unique and appealing presentation of a range of real estate. Using a drone to obtain the type of overhead shots of various properties for sale combines with interior images showing off the designs, colors and style options to best advantage. The uniqueness of each image helps to market the properties portrayed in the pictures.

In addition to real estate images, other products are pictured in the photographer's portfolio. One example is jewelry. The images included in the portfolio present the business in a way that is both attractive and tasteful. Although a commercial jewelry outlet, the images presented by Lehman Photography are attractive enough to be perceived as art images.

Another component of the photography business is scenic picture of the unique areas of Nevada. These images are art, pure and simple. A blend of sky and terrain which is like no other part of the country is portrayed in a series of scenic photographic images.

In 2002, the company launched a company called SmugMug, which serves as a trustee for tens of thousands of customers' photos. The photo site has remained successful with billions of photos and millions of customers daily. The site is utilized by both professionals or hobbyists to brand a portfolio or privately to document a life.
