Joseph Fisch, spokesperson for the company Abco Tech, has announced that their latest product, a Bluetooth shower speaker was recently released through Amazon. The product, which is available in both red and black, has been very well received by their initial customers which has results in many stellar reviews.

Joseph stated that they are very excited with their latest Bluetooth shower speaker because it is very unique, and they're confident that their customers will be able to enjoy the many features that come with this product.

The Bluetooth Shower Speaker can be used as an FM radio, and even has 10 preset stations. The speaker has a LCD display, which also shows the time, and it serves as a hands-free speakerphone as well.

Abco Tech stated that this device can connect to other devices via Bluetooth, and is able to do this via its auto pairing features that will pair with the last device it had previously connected with. It also comes with 3 firm suction cups that are designed to stay fixed to the wall, or any other type of surface the customer desires. The Bluetooth shower speaker can charge via a micro USB, and it has a crystal-clear sound with subwoofer effect as well. Joseph Fisch reminded customers of the most important feature, which is that the Bluetooth shower speaker is completely waterproof, so customers will be able to enjoy some excellent music, or maybe a good talkshow, while they shower. One customer wrote the following review on Amazon,

"I've had this for a while now and love it! It stays charged for a long while and has pretty good sound. I like the LED screen and clock setting. It's really easy to use and you can program your radio stations so you can easily listen. It's also very durable. I've accidentally dropped mines in the shower before and it's held up very well. I would definitely recommend this to anyone looking for a good affordable waterproof speaker/radio."

Abco Tech are also offering a special deal. If customers buy 2 of their Bluetooth Shower Speakers they will get an extra 25% discount off the retail price, and shipping is also free. Customers simply need to enter the following discount code at checkout: H9LXUEC6.

The company stated that regardless of whether customers buy the Bluetooth shower speaker for themselves or as a gift for someone else, they will be receiving a high quality product that has excellent sound. They are also offering a lifetime guarantee to all of their customers. Another customer wrote the following review on Amazon,

"This is a great shower speaker! I love that it has a screen so I can see what time it is! the only downside is that u can't see the time while the music on...u have to turn it off to see the time. I'm not sure that the description tells you, but this thing talks! ex. if you change the mode to Bluetooth it will say "Bluetooth mode"! another great feature is when u are talking to someone on the phone, it completely mutes out the water sound! when I talk to people they said they never even heard the water and thought I turned it off! love this speaker!!!"

For more information on the Bluetooth shower speaker, the company urges all interested parties to go directly to their Amazon storefront.
