Roy Wingate Dental Consultants, an internet marketing company based in Cleburne, TX, that focuses specifically on the dental industry, is proud to announce that they have published a new video on their website. This video describes the steps required for a dental clinic to upgrade their business through online marketing. The video can be applied to marketing any kind of dental procedure.

Roy Wingate himself says: "We help dental clinics to set themselves apart in the online world, attracting new clients looking for orthodontics, Invisalign, dental crowns, dental implants, braces, or any other dental procedure. Our blueprint is all that a dental clinic needs to set itself apart."

The video, which is also available on YouTube at https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FBI6yG5usas, discusses exactly how dental clinics can take themselves to the next level. This starts with a turnkey solution, meaning that they are already positioned for results. Through the work delivered by Roy Wingate, they ensure that the clinics are placed in front of the right prospects at the right time. Roy Wingate adds: "Our system provides them with a slightly unfair advantage, but all is fair in love and war - and business. We only provide this service to one clinic in each geographical area, however. As such, we encourage dental clinics to contact us straight away, because if the opportunity doesn't go to them, it will go to their competition."

The cosmetic dental industry is one of the most competitive segments of the dental industry. It also changes regularly, in line with the economy and consumer lifestyles. In order to remain relevant in this industry, cosmetic dentists must use the best possible marketing tools available to them. "We are business marketing experts, and our specialization is in the promotion of cosmetic dentistry," adds Roy Wingate. "Our key deliverables are dominating the Internet search engines, designing the right website, developing videos that highlight the best projects in their client's portfolio, establishing a presence in local media, planning a marketing strategy that fits their client's expectations and budget, and making sure that their clients are well recognized and trusted in their service area."
