May 22, 2017 -
Miami, FL flower delivery company Spring in the Air is well known, particularly for its roses. They are one of the few companies that offer roses in a variety of different colors, from yellow to lavender. They are proud to announce that they have now launched auto-ship rose delivery, so people can have fresh roses at their door regularly.

"Roses have a lot of meaning, which is why many people only purchase them for specific events," says Sergio Cadena from Spring in the Air. "However, our roses are so beautiful that there really is no need to ever have to do without them. This is why we have launched auto-ship, allowing our clients to have new roses delivered to them bi-weekly, monthly, bi-monthly, or quarterly. And, as always, members of our VIP club receive a discount on their order."

Those interested in auto-ship simply have to choose the roses that they like, indicate how many they want, and what type of auto-ship they prefer. It should be noted that there is no requirement to sign up for auto-ship, and people are welcome to purchase whichever long stem roses they like, in whichever color, and in whatever quantity they desire, without choosing automatic shipment. Furthermore, auto-ship can be cancelled at any time.

One product that is more popular than any other with Spring in the Air, is their offer of 2 dozen roses. Sergio Cadena adds: "Sending two dozen of these roses is considered to be the most romantic gesture anyone can make when it comes to giving flowers. It has been discussed in literature and movies, and many people in cities like Paris and New York actually make a living by selling these."

Those interested in ordering two dozen roses can first choose their collection, whether it is seasonal, romantic, or hand tied arrangement. They will then choose the size: petite, classic, premium, or supreme.

Those who have placed an order in the past have been exceedingly happy about their product. "These were amazingly fresh," says Jack C. on the company's website. "Two days from South American grower to a vase in my home. Stunning tight buds that opened and lasted for weeks with routine care. The best Valentine's Day Rose experience I've ever had. Will be back next time I'm in the market for top quality roses and expeditious service."
