May 26, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The Bolt EV is Chevrolet's newest all electric vehicle, and it is already proving to be very popular. Karl Chevrolet, a car dealer in New Canaan, CT, is the first dealership to have sold a Chevrolet Bolt EV in the state of Connecticut. As the a well recognized Chevrolet dealer in CT, they are very proud to have been able to add this particular honor to their list of achievements.

Leo Karl III, owner and founder of Karl Chevrolet, says: "It's been an incredible year so far for us here at Karl Chevrolet. From celebrating 90 years in business, to winning the dealer rater dealer of the year award. Now we're proud to celebrate being the first dealer to sell the Chevrolet Bolt in the state of CT. The Bolt is quite an incredible vehicle and one that will truly continue to leverage Chevrolet as a leader in technology and forward thinking."

As an official Chevrolet Bolt EV dealer, and with a commitment to excellence across the board, all staff members at Karl Chevrolet have been fully trained in the ins and outs of the new electric vehicle. Every employee is now knowledgeable on the parts, specifications, and benefits of the Chevrolet Bolt EV. Naturally, they have all also taken a test drive in the vehicle, something that Leo Karl was particularly happy with.

The owner of the first Bolt says, "I love the Bolt. I was eagerly awaiting its rollout in Connecticut, and it is meeting my every expectation. It's a fun car to drive, and the battery has great range. We even took a family trip to mid-state New York and didn't need to worry about finding a place to charge anywhere along the way. It was a smooth, easy ride. It was nice to drive past the gas stations and not need to think about filling up, too. It's even been a pleasure in the daily I-95 commute. Overall, the entire experience has been excellent, from the service at Karl Chevrolet to actually using the Bolt EV."

Those interested in the new Chevrolet Bolt EV are encouraged to contact Karl Chevrolet as soon as possible.
