The Gentleman's Beard, the company credited for its beard care products has added new features to its well-loved Beard Oil. The company has launched a more natural and organic version of their product, which is highly suitable for men with easily irritated skin.

A spokeswoman for the company says: "We think it's important to give our customers the option to choose a natural product that will suit their skin's nature. While our product was created to suit most skin types, the new version of our beard oil is organic and Fragrance Free, so men with easily irritated skin can find this product extremely beneficial to use everyday."

The Gentlemen's Beard Premium Beard Oil is not only organic; it's also rich in Vitamin E and Evening Primrose oil. This reduces beard itch that comes with growing a brand new beard and also helps prevent dandruff or "beardruff". Moreover, the occasional split ends that sometimes occur after a shave are greatly reduced and even avoided.

"I wanted this for my dad who has sensitive skin and is super picky about the products he uses", says Stacy

K, an avid fan of the product. "He really likes it for many reasons. It has absolutely no scent whatsoever, so it doesn't interfere with his cologne or other product he uses. It contains vitamin E and jojoba oil so it's a great moisturizer, it's not sticky, it keeps his beard in place and his beard is super soft all day long! I have noticed that his beard is not as coarse looking as before, it looks much more groomed and tamed. A little goes along way so this bottle will last awhile. He has also been using it on his mustache and admitted to adding a few drops to his hair. I did receive this in exchange for my opinion and I recommend it to anyone with facial hair."

The product has garnered a lot of positive reviews and many were so convinced of its effectiveness that they bought the product?even women.

Charley from Wisconsin agrees: " I absolutely love gifting this beard oil, it never disappoints me I always hear positive feedback about it especially when I let my husband try it since he is trying to grow his beard out. He noticed a soft feel on his mustache and it really conditioned his beard out growing to softer and the hair follicles are uptight. I definitely recommend this product."
