Internet Income Jamaica, a business in Kingston, Jamaica, has recently added new training dates to their schedule for freelance intensive Earn Money Online sessions. Training sessions will take place between July 23 and 25, 2017. Registration is now open and places are available on a first come first serve basis. The sessions will be in the format of a hands-on bootcamp where participants can learn and implement at the same time.

Alicia Lyttle, CEO of Internet Income Jamaica, says: "Our bootcamps are 'hands on' - come with your laptop and implement what you learn right there in class. After your training, we provide ongoing support with your instructor and fellow graduates. You will continue to have the guidance and support you need to ensure your success."

The training will teach participants how to earn online by freelancing. The training will also teach participants how to get paid in US dollars for online work as well as the trusted sites they should use. The company also offers a wealth of other training courses, such as the Virtual Assistant Workshop, the Voice Acting Bootcamp, and Transcription Workshop.

"Our courses are created and taught by experts in their respected industries," explains Alicia Lyttle. "We do not train on 'theory', we only provide training in areas that we have first-hand experience and success. Learn from those that are actually in the field and making money."

The company is dedicated to empowering people in Jamaica by giving them the necessary knowledge and skills to become entrepreneurs in an online business. Through their training sessions, they show people how to use the internet to create a sustainable US dollar income, working from home.

That is the main driving force behind our endeavors - our love for people and a desire to see people succeed and achieve. Our students go on to become experts in their chosen niche, whether it is writing, graphic design or web design. The sky is the limit for our students."
