Excel Builders, based in Chaska, MN, is proud to announce the completion of the redesign of its Minnesota cabinet shop website, specifically for the Artisan Cabinet Company. This company classes itself as 'much more than a cabinet designer'. They have woodworkers on their team who make by hand every cabinet, such that they are able to offer superior quality and professionalism.

Trent Newville from Excel Builders says: "At Artisan Cabinet Company, we take pride in taking custom cabinet design to the next level. Our highly trained professionals provide kitchen cabinets, bathroom cabinets, mudroom lockers, and more for homes and businesses in the Twin Cities metro area. From design to build and to installation, we take a holistic approach to custom cabinetry. If you're looking to upgrade your space with unique cabinet design, we will bring that vision to life. We encourage people to explore our new website to get an idea of the work that we do."

As part of their awareness-raising campaign about who the company is and what it stands for, they have also launched the Facebook - Artisan Cabinets page. Here, they share more information about their processes, photographs of any work they have completed for illustration purposes, and any updates relevant to their company or industry. They encourage everyone to like the page so that they will always be updated with regards to new developments. The Facebook page also gives people the opportunity to leave a review on the service that they have received.

Of particular pride to the cabinet company is being featured on Houzz, believing that this is a true testament to the quality of work the company offers. Houzz being a go-to location for interior design, many of the company's past customers have visited the page to share their reviews. R.H. says on the platform: "We hired Artisan to design, build and install lockers for our mudroom. From my very first communication with the group to the final installation, Artisan is beyond top notch. All phases were prompt, extremely well done and competitively priced. The final build met and exceeded our expectations. We would not hesitate to use Artisan once again for future projects or refer to others."

Those interested may want to take a look at the Houzz - Artisan Custom Cabinets web page or the Facebook page.
