

5 Star Scarf Organizer Jewelry Roll Up Organizes Their Customers Lives

June 24, 2015

June 24, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Specialty Styles, a business in Ontario, Canada, has recently made scarf organizer available online. Judging by the amount of 5 star reviews they have received, the company is pleased to know that they are helping their customers organize their life. As such, Specialty Styles is now offering a limited time promotion on their two main products through Amazon, the scarf organizer and their jewelry roll up. The scarf organizer, which usually sells for $17.99, is now available for $15.99. Meanwhile, the jewelry roll, which usually costs $29.99, has now been discounted to $24.99.

"We have been listing our products on Amazon for some time now", says Diane Greenwood from Specialty Styles. "On top of that, we have started a Facebook community where people can share space saving and organizing ideas. Finally, our website features all our products, as well as listing special offers and more."

Indeed, the website is of particular interest. Customers can sign up for VIP membership, which will give them various benefits. For instance, they will be the first to be offer a bigger discount, in return for their unbiased and honest review of the products they purchase. Whenever Specialty Styles launches a new product, therefore, VIP members will be first to know.

Specialty Styles has also hinted at a new product launch. It appears that their jewelry roll up will soon be made available in a different color. However, this is all still pretty hush hush and no comments have been released on the issue.

Meanwhile, the Specialty Styles Facebook fan page is attracting a lot of attention. The "I Love Being Organized" page already has over 500 likes and is frequently used by people to discuss space saving and organization ideas, and how they can incorporate the Specialty Styles products in it. "I absolutely LOVE your Facebook Page!!!", says Tana Rowcliff. "Awesome!!!"

Perhaps most important, however, is that the scarf organizer and jewelry roll up that are currently being sold on Amazon and through the website are of high quality and serve a real need. The positive reviews for both have been coming in thick and fast and both are current five star products. "This product is perfect for any closet - it hangs flat and takes up barely any space", says AB about the scarf organizer. And "Great product, it fits all my jewellery perfectly and there is a place for everything", says Kerbear about the jewelry roll up.

The future for Specialty Styles seems to be bright. People are interested in out of the box space saving and organization ideas, and this is exactly what the company offered. Topped with a VIP membership option that helps people not just to save space but save money as well by offering special discounts, and it seems that the company has found a true recipe for success.
