Kazzo Fitness, a health and fitness business in Salt Lake City, UT, have today released their brand new gym ball on Amazon. To encourage more people to try the product, they are offering it at a special introductory price of just $21.97 while stocks last. The body ball usually costs $35.95. This will be a great way for people to test out the new ball, as well as achieving greater health.

"Our pilates ball redefines these types of products", says Elizabeth Carter from Kazzo Fitness. "We want to make sure people are able to experience just what sets our product apart, which is why we are offering it with a 37% off discount during this launch."

What makes the gym ball different is that it is truly premium in design. It has much thicker and denser walls than other similar products. As such, it provides more resistance, which in turn leads to greater results. Naturally, the thickness of the work out ball also means that it is more durable than other inferior products.

The stability ball also has an anti-slip texture. This makes it much safer to use during a workout. No longer do people have to worry about the ball slipping on the floor or them slipping off the ball itself. As such, they can focus solely on getting the most out of their workout. Indeed, the ball is designed to add more variety to stability ball exercises, making it more varied and fun.

The gym ball has only been available on Amazon for a short period of time, and it has already received a number of glowing reviews. "I LOVE this ball", says Joshua D. "I've purchased several fitness balls in the past but none have such a thick durable material like this one. I mostly use it for ab workouts but also sit on it when I work at home. I'm ordering another one for my office as well. It's great that they throw in a free pump."

Those who purchase the workout ball at present will also receive a free pump to help inflate the ball. Kazzo Fitness also backs their product with amazing customer service, as well as a 100% lifetime guarantee. Indeed, they have so much faith in the quality of their product that they feel comfortable offering this. Some other exercise balls only have a short warranty period, usually around 30-60 days.
