

Personal Injury Lawyer Offers Free Case Evaluation

July 05, 2017

July 05, 2017 -
Gross & Schuster, P.A., a personal injury law firm in Pensacola, FL, has announced that they now offer a free case evaluation service. This is different from an initial consultation that is common with a personal injury lawyer. Rather than simply discussing with potential clients how they can be represented, a case evaluation will determine whether or not there is a case to be made, thereby potentially saving them a lot of time and money.

Terrence A. Gross, co-owner and co-founder of Gross & Schuster, P.A., says: "All good law firms offer a free initial consultation. However, that time is often used to enable the client and the lawyer to get to know each other and to highlight details of the case. We have decided to take this one step further and truly look into the case, thereby determining whether we feel our prospective client has a good case or not."

The firm is a highly rated and respected law firm. They have an A+ BBB rating and have received thousands of positive reviews from their happy clients. This is a reputation that Gross & Schuster, P.A. is incredibly proud of, and one that they work hard to maintain. It is for this reason that they always aim to go above and beyond what other law firms offer.

"We combine deep legal experience with a commitment to client service," adds Terrence A. Gross. "Our Pensacola personal injury attorneys have more than 30 years of experience and are board-certified in civil trial law by the Florida Bar. Only 1.1 percent of Florida attorneys achieve this certification. When it comes to client service, we make a point of communicating on a regular basis and keeping clients informed."

This has clearly been greatly appreciated by their clients. One comment says on the company website: "I was in a serious car accident and had Mr Schuster handle my case. The office staff is very friendly and helpful and Mr Schuster went beyond my expectations. I highly recommend them for all personal injury cases."

Anyone who has sustained a personal injury, and wants to know whether legal action is possible, is encouraged to contact the law firm as soon as possible for a free case evaluation by calling (850) 434-3333, or visiting their website at https://grossandschuster.com/.
