Hoot's Naturals, a company in Spring Hill, TN, has announced the launch of a new product, the Blossom Balm, which is an all-natural healing balm that has been shown to work incredibly well on all skin ailments. These include wounds, burns, eczema, and psoriasis. In fact, the company points out that it even helps to relieve the symptoms of shingles. Furthermore, it is also suitable for vegans.

Ricky Hooter, owner and founder of Hoot's Naturals, says: "At Hoot's Naturals, as our name suggests, we believe in natural products. Mother Nature has given us everything we need to heal and be healthy and we aim to harness that in our variety of products. The new Blossom Balm is natural vegan blend of essential oils and candelilla wax, which is suitable for treating any type of wound and skin ailment."

The company has indicated that they have created a breakthrough proprietary formula that uses a blend of ingredients that work in synergy with each other. This is what makes the product much more effective than other natural skin balms. The company has spent a considerable amount of time researching the said product to find the perfect ingredient ratios, and they therefore have proven results of the effectiveness of the Blossom Balm.

"The product coats and protects any wound or skin ailment," explains Ricky Hooter. "This is thanks to the candelilla wax, which forms a protective layer over the injury. Hence, it does not need bandaging or wrapping. Being a balm, rather than a gel or a cream, it penetrates deep into the skin, providing remarkable results."

Hoot's Naturals is an established and trusted company, and as a result, customers have purchased the new product in droves. In fact, although only recently launched, it has already attracted a large number of positive reviews. People mention how it has helped on burn wounds, and how they have been able to use it on skin conditions afflicting their children. As the product is completely natural and vegan, it is also safe to use.

Ricky Hooter says: "We 100% believe in the safety and efficacy of our product. This is why we also offer a full satisfaction guarantee: like it or your money back."
