ManageByStats, a suite of software tools for Amazon sellers, has announced that they will have a booth at the ASD Market Week trade show, being held this July at the Las Vegas Convention Center. ASD Market Week is a comprehensive B2B trade show that brings together a wide variety of the world's retail merchandise in one location. It runs from July 30th thru August 2nd and will fill the entirety of the Las Vegas Convention Center.

"This is the largest show of its kind," says ManageByStats CEO, Philip Jepsen. "ASD is huge, and it brings together about fifty-thousand buyers from around the world for a week of amazing opportunities. It's a chance to connect with exhibitors, find new merchandise, make deals -- some ninety-eight percent of the attendees are decision makers, so you can imagine the business that gets done."

Originally "ASD" stood for "Associated Surplus Dealers" when the show was first established in 1961. Today, "ASD" stands for "Affordable Shopping Destination". ManageByStats provides solutions to Amazon sellers for the effective management of customer, inventory and sales data, along with other tools such as an automated email notification service, keyword, review and feedback monitoring, a service for gathering customer real emails and phone numbers, and an email campaign option.

“ManageByStats serves Amazon sellers with a full suite of business tools,” says Mr. Jepsen. “We’ll be in attendance at the show, with a booth in the Business Solutions section. We hope to meet a lot of sellers there and tell them about our software. We’ve helped thousands of Amazon sellers expand their business, and the ASD show will be a great opportunity to speak with many of our existing users, and to meet a whole lot more.”

ManageByStats will be at Booth C5004 in the Central hall of the Las Vegas Convention Center, in the Business Solutions section. The ASD Market Week trade show runs July 30th thru August 2nd, 2017. Customers with questions on ManageByStats can visit their web site.
