July 17, 2017 -
Synergy Telcom, a leader in providing Telecommunications and Voice Over IP Solutions worldwide, has announced it is now an authorized business dealer for Sprint and will be able to provide better telecommunications equipment and its full range of technical and maintenance services at cost effective rates. Synergy Telcom, a company with dual centrally-located home offices in Indianapolis and Memphis, is a leading independent supplier of new and refurbished telecommunications equipment and is renowned for providing organizations across the world with high quality, innovative and cost-effective telecommunications equipment and services.

To allow customers to have a taste of the exclusive benefits the partnership will offer customers to upgrade to the latest iPhone by leasing their iPhone 7 or iPhone 7 Plus with Synergy Telcom for business cell phone plans. Although, the offer is available for a very limited time.

Synergy-tel.com and Sprint have partnered to provide high-quality business communication services that create better ways to connect its customers to the things they care about most. Sprint served 59.7 million connections as of March 31, 2017, and is widely recognized for developing, engineering and deploying innovative technologies, including the first wireless 4G service from a national carrier in the United States.

?Telecommunications equipment is one of the most important parts of today's life,? explained Les Walker from Synergy Telcom. ?It is the single greatest constant in the business industry, technology or otherwise. Whether you are a new start-up business or if you are the extremely successful, we want to keep your business in contact with those you need to be in contact with, both outside and inside the office.?

Synergy Telcom and Sprint partnership will make it possible for Synergy Telcom to continue to deliver an unparalleled telecommunications experience. Synergy Telcom customers can expect to enjoy more diverse product line of new and refurbished telecommunications equipment at cost effective rates in years to come.

Among the highly anticipated offer is the iPhone upgrade limited-time offer exclusively available from Synergy Telcom and Sprint.
