June 16, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The Cascade Team Real Estate, based in Issaquah, WA, has recently opened a new real estate office in Redmond, WA. "We are happy to now bring Redmond home sellers our technology and marketing platform for only a 1% listing commissions," says Diego Vitelli, Redmond Branch Manager. "Our goal is to not only bring technology such as 3D virtual tours and automated home feedback software, but a level of service that cannot be matched in our industry."

In addition, they provide Redmond home buyers access to an MLS online search smart technology. This means it learns people's search criteria as they go on. As such, it is much easier for them to find the property of their dreams.

"Smart technology is all around us now," says Cary Porter from The Cascade Team Real Estate. "It is in our phones, in our home appliances and our vehicles. Yet people are still expected to search for homes the old fashioned way! Our new Redmond real estate smart search technology changes that for the better, helping more people finding the newest listed Redmond homes for sale."

When first navigating to the website, people can enter specific neighborhoods, or choose from a number of popular areas around Redmond. They are also able to show how much they are willing to spend (minimum and maximum), how many bedrooms their ideal property has, as well as how many bathrooms. People are also encouraged to sign up for the free property tracking account, which will make their searches even easier. This account will allow them to see more listings much more quickly, indeed being shown new listings before they hit Trulia and Zillow. The account allows them to see all the details of the listing as well, and gives them access to the new smart technology.

"Signing up for a free account allows people to see all the relevant houses for sale in Redmond before anyone else does," adds Cary Porter. "Not just that, they will receive immediate email notifications of new listings, so they never miss out on what could have been the residential home or condo that is a perfect match for them. Naturally, once they have found their property, or if they don't like our service for whatever reason, they can unsubscribe no questions asked."

The Cascade Team Real Estate is committed to helping both home buyers and home sellers. Their customer service is top notch, including live chat on their website both for people who have signed up for a free smart search account and for those who simply want to browse their listings. Their Facebook page also includes the listings they currently have on file, as well as various positive reviews from people who have successfully found their home through the Redmond real estate MLS online facility.

Those who are looking for a home in or around Redmond should consider checking out The Cascade Team. They offer an easy, high tech and smart way to help people both find and sell a home. This is real estate service that is simply unmatched.
