Mindset Of A Champion Training Event To Be Held In Jamaica

August 07, 2017

August 07, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Inspire Me Events, an organization based in Saint Andrew, Jamaica, has announced that this year's The Mindset of a Champion training event will be held in Kingston at the Cru Bar & Lounge on August 10th, 2017, from 6:00pm until 8:30pm. The event aims to teach participants how they can become a champion in whatever they would like to do.

"These events inspire, motivate and empower people to be the best version of themselves. The speakers are amazing and the environment is perfect," says Alicia Lyttle, co-partner of Inspire Me Events.

Inspire Me Events is committed to making sure that entrepreneurs across the Caribbean can be the best that they can be in whatever they plan to do. The events are designed to be inspiring, showing people how to achieve what they want with their existing skills, or how to obtain new skills to grow further. The Mindset of a Champion event will look in particular at how the mind is every entrepreneur's greatest obstacle because of doubt. It is pointed out that the mind can have focus, drive, passion, and persistence, and the event aims to help bring these to the foreground.

During the event, participants will learn about how to develop the champion mindset by focusing on a number of key principles. They will learn how to identify their goals and become focused on them, while at the same time having an open mind. Furthermore, they will learn about postulation and positive thinking, and making these a part of their daily habits and routines.

The event will also show participants how to create growth plans and how to set goals towards achieving them. There will be a very strong focus on becoming and staying positive, and how that is a mental attitude that must be adopted. Mainly, the event will show participants how to overcome imaginary barriers that their mind creates, which are the fear of rejection and the fear of failure.

Registration for the Mindset of a Champion training event is now open. Places are limited, so people are encouraged to book their seat as soon as possible, as it is on a first come first served basis.
