

Successful Marketing Group Introduces New Local Business Internet Marketing Training Workshops

August 21, 2017

August 21, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Successful Marketing Group, which is based in Minneapolis, MN, is proud to announce that they have developed live training sessions on local business internet marketing. These sessions can be half an hour to 90 minutes long, or a full four hour workshop. During the training, people will learn more about Google SEO for local business, and how this is substantially different from global search engine optimization (SEO).

The new training is all about teaching businesses how to get connected. It also discusses the eight "must haves" for successful online marketing and building an internet presence specifically for local businesses. Furthermore, it teaches participants the basics of reputation marketing and getting 5 star reviews from customers. A seminar, meanwhile, has been designed to help companies triple their bottom line in just 18 months.

Glory Ramsey from the Successful Marketing Group says: "I wake up everyday, with relentless commitment to positively change the face of my clients' businesses forever. I am only in the business of helping my clients reach their personal goals by helping them dominate their category and serve more customers. To achieve this, I have developed new forms of training to explain the strategic messaging and local SEO and how businesses can use both to their advantage."

While those appear to be pretty big claims, it appears that the Successful Marketing Group is indeed able to deliver. This is apparent from their many customer reviews. For instance, Jerry F. says on the company's website: "Glory, and Successful Marketing Group, has truly become a business partner with our Fresh Coat Painters of Eden Prairie team. Her SEO knowledge and ideas have swamped others. She is always there when I want to bounce an idea for marketing off someone. She is more than just a marketing guru, she is as I said, a part of your team. Feel very happy if you are able to work with her."

Glory Ramsey is dedicated to doing all she can to empower her clients to become successful. She has over 25 years of experience in doing this, having specialized in internet marketing in particular for the past 11 years. She is also a Certified Member of the Power Marketing Network.
