Steel Building Contractor Celebrates Seven Years of Providing Affordable Metal Buildings

August 21, 2017

August 21, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Steel Buildings of Houston is a steel building contractor that focuses on constructing affordable metal buildings for Houston area businesses. The company has recently announced that they have completed their seventh year in business and that they continue to work with businesses to provide affordable yet highly durable steel constructed buildings for a number of business needs.

"Our specialty lies in commercial steel buildings," says Robert Ferguson from Steel Buildings of Houston. "Our staff has the experience needed to complete any commercial project and we ensure that everything is done to your exact design specifications, which is what has kept us in business; we cater to you and your needs."

Ferguson says that one of the reasons the company has been so successful over the past seven years is because they always ensure that customer orders are completed on time and within the specified budget. He states that they pay strict attention to detail and offer customer service that is unsurpassed in the industry.

The Houston steel building contractor offers a number of buildings in various sizes and shapes to meet specific customer needs. Ferguson says that businesses merely have to contact the company to learn more about how they can construct a custom building.

"Just give us a call and we will work with you to make certain that you get exactly what you need," Ferguson says. "We are proud of the reputation that we have earned over these past few years and want nothing more than to further that reputation by offering the best in buildings, cost, turnaround time, and customer service."

The company points out that steel is a strong and highly durable material for building projects and that it is highly popular for business use because it does not expand nor contract like other construction materials. Ferguson says that the entire staff has the same passion for the steel construction industry that they have had since the beginning and states that they look forward to seeing what the next seven years will bring. Those interested in learning more about the company or the Houston steel buildings that they manufacture can visit them on their official website.
