October 10, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Rustic Wyoming Realty has announced the launch of its new Kari Happold Real Estate website. Kari Happold, a real estate broker, states that the new site offers information for both buyers and sellers as well as resources and information for those new to the area.

"We are so pleased to announce that our new website is up and running," says Happold. "We feel confident that this will help you in your search for the perfect property that you want to buy or, on the other hand, if you want to sell your property."

Happold states that a quick search option is available on the site, which will significantly help those interested in properties in the area to narrow down their search. The search function provides input for price, property type, house size and location.

"Many people know what they want before they begin looking at real estate sites," says Happold. "We wanted to make it much easier to find that property by offering you a specific search option which greatly narrows down the available choices to the ones that you would truly be interested in seeing."

In addition to the search and area listings, a featured listing area is also available. Happold says that this area provides quick access to homes and properties that are highlighted through the real estate agency. These are those properties that they feel most home buyers would be compelled to see or inquire about. To see additional information regarding Kari Happold Real Estate, those interested can view the company Facebook page.

In addition to assisting buyers in finding a property, realtors and agents from Rustic Wyoming Realty can also assist sellers. With access to the national MLS and various other resources, they can help to ensure that sellers get their properties listed for the fairest price possible and that their properties are shown to serious buyers. Those interested in selling can also find a lot of resources on the new website that will help them with their decision to sell.

Interested buyers or sellers can learn more by visiting the newly published website and reading through a number of articles on the process of real estate transactions as well as area information. Those ready to move in the buying or selling process can contact the office which is located at 3001 Henderson Drive, Suite H, Cheyenne, WY, 82001 for more information.
