August 18, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Bradley Johnson, a Seattle, Washington DUI attorney has recently announced that he has been accepted as a member of Top American Lawyers. Top American Lawyers chooses the best among millions of attorneys in the United States to provide consumers with a listing of trustworthy attorneys for their legal aid requirements. The list is divided into various categories, such as criminal defense, employment law, cars and motor vehicles, consumer rights, divorce and family law, civil and human rights, lawsuits and disputes, and DUI-DWI.

"I couldn't be more thrilled," says Attorney Bradley Johnson. "We've been representing clients for the better part of 25 years, so we know what we're doing. To be given the distinction of being a Top American Lawyer is an honor beyond words."

Top American Lawyers has membership requirements that are so strict that not even one percent of American attorneys are permitted to join. Johnson states that this in itself shows that he and his entire team are dedicated to their craft.

"The organization selects members that meet certain requirements," the attorney says. "They select members based on various factors, such as professionalism, ethics, determination, commitment to clients and other things that attorneys should practice but sadly, many fail to achieve."

The organization states on its website that only attorneys who have demonstrated the necessary skills, competence, vigor and aptitude to meet the stringent requirements are offered membership into the prestigious list. Johnson says that it takes a special type of attorney to represent DUI cases, as there are certain stigmas attached to such a charge. He says that not only do they attempt to clear the slate for innocent clients as far as their arrest record is concerned, they also try to help those clients to overcome the judgments that society has placed on anyone who is charged with driving under the influence. In addition, the firm assists with various other legal courses in addition to DUIs.
