Green Heart Lifestyle Releases Pruning Shears Aimed at Amateur Gardeners

August 18, 2017

August 18, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Green Heart Lifestyles, the Niagara Falls, NY based garden tools company, is proud to announce its latest line of pruning shears created especially for amateur gardeners.

Speaking on the occasion, Aad Hermann, President of Green Heart Lifestyles, says, "Gardening is a great hobby with the fresh air, exercise, beauty, and relaxation making it a wonderful way to pass time. However for amateurs, starting off with gardening can be a daunting experience, especially when it comes to choosing the right tools for the job. We're hoping that our pruning shears can help change that impression."

Pruning is a fundamental technique of gardening, wherein parts of a plant such as its branches, leaves or buds are selectively cut off to remove damaged, dead, diseased or structurally unsound sections.

Regular pruning improves plant health, encourages flowering and helps the gardener control the aesthetic appeal of their plants and is especially important for young plants as the right care in the early stages can help plants grow more sturdy and healthy in the future. For novice gardeners pruning shears are the right tool for implementing this crucial process of effective gardening.

Pruning shears are generally used on young, live plants and are effective at cutting and trimming a plant's stems and branches along with snipping off its unwanted buds and leaves.

Bypass pruning shears are versatile as they can be used in a variety of circumstances ranging from maintaining plants in a greenhouse to gardening at home or even maintaining the growth of potted plants in an office.

Pruning shears with a bypass design provide a clean cut and are usually equipped with carbon blades that are rust and corrosion resistant, making them last longer. Created using ergonomic design, these shears are comfortable and fit the hands perfectly, with the dropped forge aluminum body making it lightweight and thus suitable for long periods of use.

Ultimately, the right pruning shear should act as an extension of the hand and with Green Heart's latest offering, amateur gardeners are sure to have made the right choice.
