

Connecticut Truck Dealer Among The Few Who Sells LCF Trucks

September 12, 2017

September 12, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Northwest Hills Chevrolet GMC Buick in Torrington, Connecticut, has announced that they are currently one of only five dealers in the state of Connecticut to provide the popular low cab forward work truck seen all over the roads and highways. The dealership also revealed that they are among the top three with regards to sales of government and municipality vehicles.

Sean Sullivan, President and General Manager of Northwest Hills Chevrolet GMC Buick, says, "We've built a fantastic reputation with businesses across the state as well as local government and municipalities and I couldn't be happier to be able to provide the needed resources. I'm also incredibly proud of my sales and service staff for providing world class service."

According to the Connecticut truck dealer, the low cab forward work truck features a six speed automatic transmission with overdrive and lock-up converter, as well as a rear-wheel drive. Its engine is a Vortec 6.0L V8 SFI with engine control module and transmission control module. Sullivan says that it makes the perfect truck for city and country crews, construction workers and many others. It provides ample space for travelers and tools and those who are interested can take a look at it at the Connecticut dealership or viewed it online at the company website at www.northwesthillsdealerships.com.

The dealership works with individuals, businesses and government departments and provides a wide range of additional vehicles as well. Sullivan states that he and his team are very proud of the fact that they have helped thousands of people get to the vehicle that they need and says that they have a number of financial resources available in addition to their expansive inventory, to ensure that customers have a positive experience each time they visit.

Sullivan declares, "We are the dealer you can deal with." He urges those who are in the market for a new vehicle, particularly those in need of a dependable heavy duty work truck, to visit the dealership and speak with any of their staff to find the vehicle for their needs. Those interested in learning more can visit the dealership in Connecticut or visit them on their official website.
