June 11, 2015 -

Printer repair and sales organization, CopierTechnics, occupying an office space in Century Office Park, is now offering free onsite inspections for donated copiers and printers.

For over 30 years, CopierTechnics has repaired copiers, printers and fax machines. They supply onsite and drop-off maintenance, supplies, and new and used equipment sales. CopierTechnics, carries the best in new and used copiers, printers and MFPs (multi-function-product/ printer/ peripheral,) featuring Sharp and Samsung digital document solutions. They provide an affordable and personable alternative to large equipment dealers.

"Our business philosophy revolves around strong client relationships that are built from mutual loyalty. By creating positive experiences and providing superior customer service, our clients share their experiences with friends and colleagues," says Gary Sawenberg of CopierTechnics.

CopierTechnics is part of the BNI Lasting Impressions Chapter, a local business networking group currently comprised of 37 members. They are also part of the ITEX services trading community.

?Frequently, companies will decide to donate their old or outdated copier or printer to charitable cause in hopes of helping out a cash-strapped organization with their office equipment needs. It's quite common for these organizations to then incur extensive repair cost on their donated equipment,? says Sawnberg.

?For customers who are considering a donation of their old office equipment to a non-profit organization, we are offering a free onsite inspection of that equipment to ensure that it will not be a burden for the recipient of their generous gift,? says Sawnberg.

CopierTechnics was built by taking care of the small office clientele. While small offices may have limitations on the amount of space they can commit to their office equipment, they still need great performance at a reasonable price. CopierTechnics repairs all brands of copiers including: Toshiba, Sharp, Samsung, Ricoh, Canon, Konica, Kyocera, Hewlett Packard and Minolta.

?Keeping costs down and passing that on to their customers is at the heart of CopierTechnics' business philosophy,? says Sawnberg.
