1st Family Dental, an Illinois dental practice with more than a dozen locations, has announced that their newest dental office opened in Mount Prospect, Illinois, on September 5th, 2017. The dental practice currently has 13 offices throughout the city and suburbs of Chicago that provide general dentistry services, cosmetic dentistry, dental implants, orthodontics, and oral surgery procedures. The newest office, 1st Family Dental of Mount Prospect, is the practice's 14th dental office in the Chicago area.

Vicky Khawaja with the dental practice says, "We're pleased to announce that our new Mount Prospect dentist office opened this month and that we've begun accepting new patients. We will be providing the same quality dental services that 1st Family Dental is known for throughout the Chicagoland area at our other 13 local offices."

Aside from dental implants and various other cosmetic and restorative dentistry procedures, the office will also cater to general dentistry services to help patients of all ages maintain healthy teeth and gums.

"We want everyone in the area to come out and have a look at our spacious, beautiful new office," says Khawaja. "Our new office is equipped with the most up to date equipment and technologies to help our staff to ensure you have the brightest, whitest, and healthiest smile possible."

1st Family Dental offices provide quality dental care that includes all restorative, cosmetic, and general dentistry services as well as emergency care. Specific services at the new office will include braces, dentures, dental implants, general cleanings and teeth whitening, and a number of other procedures.

Khawaja states that with the convenience of their new location and the reputation that the company has for providing quality care in the area, she hopes everyone will take the time to schedule an appointment or free consultation and learn more about the range of services that they will be providing.
