CrossCadence LLC, a business in Hillsboro, OR, has opened a new office CrossCadence - San Juan Islands where they have added a new local search area to their covering the San Juan Islands. They help businesses in this geographical region to properly market and optimize their websites.

Brad Schweitzer from CrossCadence LLC says: "Our proven strategies put your digital properties right where your customers are looking: on page one of the Google search results. A comprehensive digital marketing strategy drives more traffic from multiple sources to your business. Let's dominate search and grow your business together. We now cover the San Juan Islands, focusing on local SEO and more in that area."

The company offers a number of key services as part of their SEO (search engine optimization) and digital marketing services. These include helping companies to increase their business revenue, generate new business leads, increase digital exposure, and more. They partner with each of their clients, focusing fully on their online marketing success.

"We are your trusted industry experts," adds Brad Schweitzer. "We will provide you with regular summary reports so that you can see how you have started to move up in the search results. Furthermore, we focus on doing our work right, so that you can benefit from it as much as possible. We're also always easy to be contacted for any questions."

The company believes in taking a simple, five-phase approach. This starts by the discovery, moving on to making a plan, then achieving results, followed by pushing beyond, and ending with future proofing. They offer optimized web design, search marketing solutions, and social media strategies as part of this process, thereby ensuring that clients have the greatest chance of success.

The company also offers a free video site analysis to show clients their current standing. Brad Schweitzer adds: "Complete the questionnaire and if your business meets our initial screening requirements we provide you with a custom plan that drives more customers to you. This site analysis is completely free and no obligation, of course."

As shown on the company's LinkedIn page, the company has a wealth of experience in this area, which is what has driven their success.
