Rip Toned Fitness is a business in Las Vegas, NV, that has developed a number of incredibly popular fitness tools and accessories. These products have been recognized by several independent fitness experts and magazines. Due to the popularity of their Rip Toned lifting belt in the U.S., the company has decided to expand and has announced that the lifting belt is now available in Canada as well.

Mark Pasay from Rip Toned Fitness says: "Our lifting belt has been a consistent best selling product. So much so, in fact, that we finally decided to allow people all over the world to have access to it, although this would have to be gradual. We have moved into a variety of foreign markets and are very happy to have been able to add Canada to the list."

Besides offering top notch products, the company also regularly publishes relevant web content and video tutorials. These pieces of content are provided in order to ensure that people can get the most out of their fitness tools, and also out of their routine itself. The tutorials are proving to be very popular, as it gives people a visual presentation of how the product should be used.

Those who have used the lifting belt in the past have been very enthusiastic about the experience that they had. Sara says on the company website: "I love it. It's a perfect fit, perfectly sized for my female frame and provides the support I was looking for in a belt. I went back and forth between this style and a leather one, and I'm so glad I went this way. I'm a nationally-qualified figure competitor in the NPC so I don't take decisions on gym gear lightly. This has been the best purchase I've made in a long time that will help in achieving my goals of going pro."

Customers in Canada can visit Amazon.ca to purchase the lifting belt. This also means that they are protected by all the security features offered by Amazon. Additionally, Rip Toned Fitness offers a lifetime warranty on all of its products.
