Plumber in Douglas, GA, Shares Safety Awareness for Hurricane Season

October 12, 2017

October 12, 2017 -
Douglas, Ga. ? Mr. Rooter, the top plumber in Douglas, GA, understands that we are in the middle of hurricane season.

After a few major hurricanes already, the Georgia plumber wants its customers to understand the importance of being prepared for the major storms when it comes down to plumbing and other safety awareness.

?It?s imperative that we inform our customers of the natural disasters that affect our community,? Buddy said. ?In times like these the more you know about disaster safety, the better.?

It is of utmost importance to make sure that one knows where the main water valve is located, that drains are cleared of any debris, and that the phone numbers of your local utilities department are on hand in case of a hurricane warning.

?We want to make sure that our customers understand how crucial it is to be prepared for a hurricane if it heads in our direction,? Buddy said.

The office of the Douglas plumber is located at 7163 Old Axson Rd, Douglas, GA 31535. Mr. Rooter of Tallahassee can be contacted by phone at ------(912) 384-3526 or visit the website at www.mrrooter.com/southeast-georgia.
