

Vickers Grant Holdings Launches Ankle Brace

October 26, 2017

October 26, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Vickers Grant Holdings, LLC, a business in Davie, FL, has announced the launch of the company's new ankle brace. This is an ankle compression sleeve that has been designed to lift and support the Achilles tendon for those who have ankle problems but want to enhance their mobility. It is provided with reinforced side stabilizers to minimize lateral motion that could increase ankle pain resulting from plantar fasciitis.

Alan Grant, co-founder and owner of Vickers Grant Holdings, LLC, says: "The ankle brace is the first in our line of products under the Athletica brand. We believe this to be a superior brand that offers customers all the support they need to be able to workout, or even walk, with fully supported, safe, and comfortable ankles."

The brace is currently available in small, medium, and large sizes. This means that basically all adults should be able to find one that is suitable for them. Having appropriate ankle support is vital to ensuring that people have a safe workout, particularly if they have had issues with their ankles in the past. Alan Grant explains: "A lot of our customers have previously twisted or otherwise hurt their ankle. We are happy to see that, thanks to this particular brace, they can continue to be physically active and healthy."

The Athletica brace is designed to fit easily and snugly around the foot and ankle. It ties at the front of the brace, using soft laces, which allows the user to put it on as tight or as loose as is appropriate for that particular foot. Hence, the brace is always comfortable and never constricting. Alan Grant declares: "We do recommend that people try the brace at different levels of tightness, so that they find what works best for them. Some people prefer to have the laces quite loose, particularly if they only require minimum levels of support, or if they have bigger ankles."

The company has stated that they are committed to providing the best ankle brace while also offering excellent customer service. Alan Grant says: "In designing this brace, we wanted to ensure that the wearer will be as comfortable as possible. Thus, it is constructed using a breathable moisture wicking material, which is warm and comfortable, and at the same time durable and odor free."
