October 24, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Now that the Medicare Annual Enrollment Period for 2018 is well underway, BGA Insurance Group, a Medicare insurance broker with offices in PA and NJ, is offering seniors a free review of their current plan due to numerous changes in the current list of providers and Medicare supplement plans.

This service is offered to any senior over the age of 65 that is unsure whether or not their current benefit plan is right for them, based on current health conditions, income, retirement status, and a number of other factors that could be involved.

Last year, BGA Insurance Group assisted many seniors in New Jersey when Amerihealth changed one of their HMO plans. These kind of changes can be unexpected or even unannounced, leaving many elderly people without a plan which often results in a default to Original Medicare. When this happens, many seniors are shocked or surprised to find that their typical level of coverage is no longer available, and they are sometimes forced to pay more out of pocket expenses.

The Annual Enrollment Period runs from Oct. 15th to December 7th. Seniors must use this time to select a new plan, or keep their current plan. The free service offered by BGA Insurance Group allows seniors to consult with a licensed insurance agent that is able to provide insight into their current benefits while suggesting a number of other plans, functioning as a broker. It can be difficult for a senior to try and determine all of the available options on their own, which is why having a licensed professional available is preferable.

Those interested can read more about the services offered by BGA Insurance Group on their newly established Medicare 2018 supplement plan resource.
